Vote on Agreement on November 8th.

Expression of opinion among the ratepayers of Didsbury, relative to the agreement between the Town Council and the Calgary Power Co., indicates apparently almost complete unanimity as to its acceptance. Publication for two weeks has given everyone an opportunity to digest for themselves the proposition as submitted, and as the vote will be taken on Tuesday, November 8th, it may be as well, perhaps, to outline the essential details of the agreement and to forecast to a certain extent the results should the vote be favorable.

The proposition may perhaps be more clearly indicated by quoting a hypothetical case of the consumer under the old and new rate, which would work out thus:

Rate hitherto charged by the Town:
Per 7 k.w.h. at 22c $1.54
Meter rent25

Total $1.79

Proposed rate by the Calgary Power Co.:
Per 7 k.w.h. at 10c70
Service charge80

Total $1.50

The saving effected under the new rate will naturally be better appreciated by the latter consumer, who will benefit considerably.

There are other advantages, however, which should be considered in connection, and they are by no means unimportant. Briefly they are these:

1. Cheaper power.
2. Twenty-four hour service.
3. Practically the wiping out of outstanding debentures on Didsbury's electric lighting system.
4. Extinguishing altogether the expense of repairs and the prospect of renewing municipal lighting plant, thus tending to reduce taxation.

In the agreement under the head of domestic rate, occurs the following paragraph:

"With a minimum charge, including the service charge, of $1.50 net, $1.80 gross, per month."

This simply means that if the account is not paid by the consumer within the time designated, the full rate of $1.80 will be charged.

It may be added, that the approval of the Utility Commissioners at Edmonton has already been given to the agreement, and it now only awaits the consent of the ratepayers to put it into effect.

Once Famous Liner Is Being Wrecked

Empress Of Japan Boasted Finer Equipment Than Many Modern Ships

The hammers and levers of a wrecking crew are making fast work of all that remains of the liner Empress of Japan, once one of the blue ribbon ships of the North Pacific.

For several years the old ship, which was launched in a British shipyard 37 years ago, has been lying at anchor in Burrard Inlet. Her once proud and majestic frame of clipper design has gradually been converted into a bare skeleton of steel, and in a few weeks even this will have gone to Japanese yards to be fabricated into material for new ships. It is said that the man who bought the vessel from the Canadian Pacific Railway, which operated the vessel so many years in the trans-Pacific trade, has already made a fortune through the removal and sale of the vessel's fittings. In these days of rapid production few ships are given the fine equipment such as the Empress of Japan boasted. Every rivet was a perfect job, the plates were sound, not a door in the bulkheads but swung freely and shut tightly as when the ship was new—all this, when the wrecking crew began its work of destruction.

The Empress of Japan had friends all over the world. Tens of thousands of people who were carried as passengers in the days of her prime remember the ship with pride that is shared by the scores of seafaring men who made the ship their headquarters for many years.

The Empress of Japan was one of three sister ships. The Empress of India was sold to the Government of India during the war and served as a hospital ship for Indian troops, later being returned to the merchant service. The Empress of China was lost on a reef off the Japanese coast some thirteen years ago.

Coyne, P. G. DuVal, Charles Gray, W. H. Gardner, J. Hunter, S. N. Jones, W. A. Kingsland, A. W. McLintock, W. McCurdy, Hugh Osler, R. H. Parkhill, C. S. Riley, J. A. Sully, W. A. Strath, Mayor R. H. Webb, and F. O. Woodman.

The object of the League, as set forth in the constitution is: To foster, encourage, and advance the science of aeronautics; to kindle and keep alive interest in same and legitimate aviation; to encourage and assist scientific groups or institutions in promoting the science of aeronautics, and aerial navigation, and to promote uniform laws, flying regulations, and air routes. To prepare and distribute general and scientific aeronautical data pertaining to atmospheric conditions, flying fields and air routes, to encourage and organize volunteer air cadet squadrons for boys and young men, in which they can receive practical and theoretical instructions to prepare them for active participation in aviation, to do all such other lawful things as are incidental or conducive to the attainment of the above objects.

In keeping with the work of the League, Major-General J. H. MacBrien, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., addressed the Canadian Club at luncheon in the Royal Alexandra Hotel on Tuesday, October 18.

AMOS DENOUNCES SIN

Golden Text: "Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live; and so Jehovah, the God of hosts, will be with you, as ye say."—Amos 5:14.

Lesson: Amos 2:4 to 3:15.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 15:1-5.

Explanations and Comments

I. Judah's Sins and Threatened Punishment, verses 2-5.—"Thus saith Jehovah," were the words with which Amos prefaced his denunciation of sin, for he rightly believed that he was the mouthpiece of a righteous God. "For three transgressions of Judah, yea, for four (the Hebrew way of saying, 'of accumulated transgressions'), I will not turn away the punishment thereof." Judah, the Southern Kingdom, had sinned over and over again; it was not any one evil act, but persistent, repeated evil acts that had called forth judgment. "Because they have rejected the law of Jehovah (the teaching of the prophets and priests), and have not kept his statutes (the definite, legal enactments), and their lies have caused them to err, after which their fathers did walk." "By lies" are meant the unreal, imaginary deities, the Baalim and Astaroths, who have no existence save in the minds of the worshiper, and therefore are sure to disappoint his hopes."—Dummelow.

"But I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem." Judah would share the doom of the neighboring nations upon which the prophet had pronounced God's judgment in the earlier part of his address.

Says Greenland Once Tropical

Danish Explorer Has Evidence To Prove His Claim

Lauge Koch, Danish explorer, has returned to Copenhagen from an exploration of Greenland with evidence that Greenland was once a tropical country. Koch and two assistants explored the coastland of North Scoresby Sound to Denmarkhaven, Greenland. The exploration is regarded as important because it shows inhabitants new routes to North Greenland.

Koch brought back the largest collection of specimens ever taken from Greenland, eight tons of fossils, plants, and animals showing three geological periods. Some specimens indicated that at one time there was tropical life on Greenland, such plants as palms growing in abundance. Signs of numerous hot springs and rich animal life were found.

The BABY

No mother in this enlightened age would give her baby something she did not know was perfectly harmless, especially when a few drops of plain Castoria will right a baby's stomach and end almost any little ill. Fretfulness and fever, too; it seems no time until everything is serene.

That's the beauty of Castoria; its gentle influence seems just what is needed. It does all that castor oil might accomplish, without shock to the system. Without the evil taste. It's delicious! Being purely vegetable, you can give it as often as there's a sign of colic; constipation; diarrhoea; or need to aid sound, natural sleep.

Just one warning; it is genuine Fletcher's Castoria that physicians recommend. Other preparations may be just as free from all doubtful drugs, but no child of this writer's is going to test them! Besides, the book on care and feeding of babies that comes with Fletcher's Castoria is worth its weight in gold.

Early Home Of Mankind

Find Skull In Africa Of Man Who Lived 25,000 Years Ago

A male skull, declared to be a perfect specimen of the type of man who existed about 25,000 years ago, has been brought to the United States by Dr. George L. Collie, professor of anthropology at Beloit College.

Dr. Collie, who represented the Logan Museum of Beloit, in Algerian excavations, borrowed the skull from M. A. Dobruge, its French discoverer, for examination by United States scientists. This and other recent discoveries in Africa provide convincing proof, said Dr. Collie, that Africa and not Asia, was the early home of mankind.

"And now, girls, for a lovely surprise! There is a beautiful lady in the city who is going to have a tea in her own home for us. She thinks of us, living away up here on the hill, and wants to make us happy. So next Tuesday afternoon she will open her lovely home, and kind ladies will come and bring gifts and money, all for us. Shouldn't we be very happy over it, and very grateful?"

"Good cats! We'll go." It was Rose Lamb who spoke for the company, gathering up the feeling of the meeting in this one crisp exclamation.

"Oh, Rose!" Mrs. Wymuth's mouth almost trembled—"Rose, how could we be invited—all of us, I mean. You should not speak so!"

"Ain't she got room?" Rose persisted; "there's only twenty-nine of us."

"Go upstairs at once, Rose," Mrs. Wymuth commanded.

Rose started towards the hall, but stopped at the door to explain her position. "It's a swell way to hold a tea for us and not ask us!"

Miss Lamb's periodic excursions into the world of action made her a sort of social directory for the girls. At once every girl felt she had been alighted.

"Rose! At once!"

Rose sauntered leisurely up the stairs. Relieved of her disconcerting presence, Mrs. Wymuth resumed: "And, as is usual in these cases where teas are held in aid of a Home, there will be a lovely basket sent to us the next day and the goodies it contains will be given to the girls who have the most honor marks."

The tea was held. The morning paper featured it. "Wednesday claimed Mrs. St. John for one of its most charming hostesses at a delightful appointed tea in aid of the Girls' Friendly Home." The paper was quite correct—she was a charming hostess, and the appointments were perfect. The oaken door had a card on the outside which said "Please walk in." On a mahogany table reposed a sweet grass basket, tied with crimson ribbon, to receive the donations. The ladies came in gaily colored throngs, high-heeled, silk-clad, perfumed. Mrs. St. John, who stood inside the drawing room, received her guests, in an American Beauty cut velvet dress. The roses on the table, in a bowl sitting on a mirror and so doubling their number, were of the same shade. The table was garlanded with smilax and "the color scheme was carried out throughout."

Ladies came in swarms from the drawing room to be served in the dining room, and exclaimed prettily over the table. Very slim young ladies served, scantily clad in dresses which were low in the neck, high in the hem, and niggardly in width. There were stuffed olives, rolled sandwiches tied with baby ribbon, tiny biscuits—faint replicas of the honest article of that name that we have known and loved—blanched almonds, more sandwiches, pimento filled, in harmony with the color scheme.

Then the fees! No one cut the fees—they did not need to be cut, they were moulded. Pink roses they were set in the palest of green leaves. The guests were rapturous. Angel cake, white and of fairy lightness, and then white creams in disks, flavored with peppermint; rose disks, flavored with wintergreen, more almonds, more disks. "Really, I shouldn't—I am dieting—but these are so delicious! I don't believe it makes one bit of difference."

Then good-byes to the charming hostess, who was still at the entrance to the drawing room, and away.

You see, the paper was right—it was "a perfectly appointed tea." There would not have been one jangling note in its perfect harmony if Miss de Forrest had not come. She had read of it in the paper and decided to come, and it so happened that she came at five o'clock, when the rooms were crowded. Miss de Forrest was a large woman, deep chested, deep voiced, dominant. When she spoke, her voice boomed.

"I am so glad you are interested in the Home," she said to her hostess, "it is high time someone became interested. I think it is a wicked place . . . Innocent girls and gully ones . . ."

Miss de Forrest's voice carried over the rising and falling chatter—hushing it at last as the women became conscious that someone was speaking.

"Now, take the case of that young Finnish girl, Helmi. Some of you know her. She is an innocent girl, clear-eyed, truthful, lovely. Do you know the case? She is hiding someone and will not tell who sent her for the heroin. Rather a noble thing too, in this dull, selfish age. But she's hounded to death by the matron to make her tell. It's just a question of how long she can hold out. Now, think of that lovely girl sleeping in the same room and eating at the same table with some of the worst girls in town! And when she gets out it will always follow her that she had been in the Girls' Friendly. I went to the matron and said some of these things, and so I got the blue envelope from the Board. The Board are all men—the solid business men we hear so much about. Some of you women should be on the Board and try to get some sense into its wooden head. I know now the origin of the word 'Board.' That's how to help wayward girls, though I admit it's a lot more fun to go to teas and eat olives on their behalf."

The women gathered around Miss de Forrest. Miss Abbie, in her excitement, left her post at the table. "I know Helmi is a good girl," she exclaimed, "even if she did burn the stew that I left simmering on the stove."

Eva St. John spent a troubled night. She hated Miss de Forrest, great hulking thing, with a voice like a fog horn, what right had she, when everything was going so beautifully, to burst in like that and spoil everything? What good did it do a person, anyway, to try and do right? "Now, here I am," she thought, "more upset than ever, and if that big raw boned valentine had only stayed away it would have been all right." Out of her troubled thoughts came one resolve—she must see Helmi.

"We are gaining a foothold, Edgar," Mrs. Wymuth told her husband that night. "People are beginning to realize that the Home is being placed on a new footing. Mrs. St. John is greatly interested in the work here, and asked so kindly about our methods. She pleaded for that dreadful Finn girl, and urged me to be patient with her. She seemed quite distressed when I told that she had actually struck you. Perhaps we had better not keep her away from her lessons. Mrs. St. John asked if she might not take her out driving some day, and I wouldn't like her to know. Yes, I think I shall reinstate her in her classes. Mrs. St. John spoke so very kindly of her. She said she would try to get Helmi to confess to her."

The winter passed not unhappily for Helmi, though she was troubled to account for Mrs. St. John's not coming to see her. There must be some reason for her friend's silence. Anyway, in a year she would be free. Rose Lamb had told her that when she was eighteen they could not keep her any longer. She would be eighteen in March, and then she would go back to Miss Abbie and the girls at the church, and take up again the happy life of the Club. In the meantime there were a lot of words to be learned and sentences to be written.

At Christmas Mrs. St. John brought presents for all the girls—twenty-nine white parcels, tied with red satin ribbon, held down with pinsetta stickers, each one containing a deeply religious book in chaste white and silver binding, with water lilies entwined in the letters of the title. She made a face as she wrapped the first one, for the shuddering thought would intrude itself. "How would I like to get this when I was expecting a real present." The fact that she got a bargain on them because they were slightly shelf-worn had turned the balance in their favor, for Mrs. St. John, like most people who can spend money lavishly on themselves, was a marvel of thrift and shrewdness where other people were concerned.

The white and silver book which went to Helmi was entitled "He is Faithful that has Promised," and the first promise, richly illuminated by roses and violets and illustrated by a story of fidelity, was "I will take care of you." This she had underlined, adding "Never forget this, dear Helmi."

When Mrs. Wymuth unrolled the book (it was part of the discipline of the Home that all letters and parcels were to be opened by the matron), she was tearful with happiness, and declared to her husband that dear Mrs. St. John, though she really had not made a profession, was not far from the Kingdom.

Bought Radium With Legacy

New York Hospital Paid Large Sum For Seventh Of An Ounce

A few months ago a rich man died in New York and left $250,000 to one of the hospitals in that city. How do you suppose the trustees spent a part of that great sum? They bought four grams of radium—a seventh of one ounce—not so much as would make half a teaspoonful! This wonderful substance is to be used in the treatment of cancers and other malignant growths, in surgery, and in the relief of diseases that are actually incurable. Probably no other hospital in the country owns as much as four grams of radium; most of them own none, and most of those institutions that use it have to borrow the tiny amounts that produce such extraordinary results.

Four million dollars a pound! That indicates the rarity of this singular element, which is so beneficent in the hands of the physician, and which has supplied the key, so geologists believe, to the riddle of the cosmic process. Each gram of the four in the New York hospital is continually discharging 213,000 billion particles of radium emanation every second, yet so tremendous is the energy locked up in this white powder that it will continue its invisible bombardment for more than two thousand years before it has exhausted itself. And then what is left will be hardly distinguishable from what we know as lead!

The dream of ocean landing fields strung across the Atlantic may reach a large scale experimental stage by next spring. E. R. Armstrong of the Dupont Company, is proceeding with plans for construction of a large model of his floating seadrome, which he hopes to have in operation before next summer.

Armstrong proposes placing the model in the Atlantic about 500 miles east of New York to study the effect waves and storms will have upon it. In appearance it is a platform lifted above the crests of the largest waves by a frame work resting upon submerged pontoons.

Armstrong's plan is to construct about five seadromes and string them at 400-mile intervals across the Atlantic. Ship and bridge building corporations are said to be tendering prices for the seadrome.

A VERY RELIABLE HOME TREATMENT

How Weak, Run-Down People Can Obtain Relief

Among the many remedies offered for the maintenance or restoration of health and strength, there is none can compare with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Most ailments are due to poor, thin blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have a specific action on the blood, making it rich, red and pure. Through this richer blood the tissues of the body are better nourished, and the functions of the body better performed. Anemic sufferers, weak, languid and nervous people speedily find new health and strength through the use of this medicine. This was the experience of Mrs. John Armour, South Monaghan, Ont., who says:—"I am one of the many thousands who have regained health through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I take this opportunity of saying a word in praise of this splendid medicine. Before beginning the use of this medicine I was pale and badly run down. I found it difficult to do my housework and was tired and breathless at the least exertion. I had tried several medicines without benefit, and finally decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Soon I began to feel better, sleep better, and eat better, and found my weight increasing. In a word I felt like a new person. I have since recommended the pills to others who have taken them with equally good results."

Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for anemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness. Take them as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition and cultivate a resistance that will keep you well and strong. Get a box from the nearest drug store and begin this treatment now.

The pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50c a box by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

A masquerade dance will be held in the Opera House, Didsbury, on November 7th, under the auspices of the I.O.D.E. A prize will be given for best home-made costume.

Mrs. Cummins and family left on Monday, via C.P.R. for Montreal, where they will embark on the Metagama for Belfast, Ireland. Mrs. Cummins has left many friends behind in the Didsbury district who will wish her a safe voyage and many happy years in her new home.

A C.P.R. gang is employed here this week, engaged in remodelling the stockyards, the work including the building of two loading shuttles and important alterations to the pens. The C.P.R. express and telegraph office has also been enlarged recently, a great improvement being effected.

The Ladies' Aid of the United Church are arranging a chicken supper, to be followed by a program, to be held in the Opera House on Armistice Night, November 11th. Adults 50c, Children under 12, 25c.

A very fine story is that by Peter B. Kyne entitled "Jim the Conqueror." This will appear on the screen at the Opera House on Saturday, October 29th, featuring Wm. Boyd and Eleanor Fair.

J. E. Liesemer received a kick from a young colt last week whilst taking it to water, one of his ribs being fractured. We were pleased to note, however, that notwithstanding the injury he was around again on Monday.

Good threshing weather has been experienced during the past two weeks, and the new grain is now beginning to roll in to the elevators. Probably about sixty per cent of the grain has been threshed and given a continuation of fine weather for another week the farmers in most cases will be finished.

Don't fail to see Richard Dix in "Knock-out Reilly" at the Opera House on Wednesday November 2.

Russell Berscht, Aylmer Liesemer, Elmer Evans and Frank Moyle motored to Calgary on Sunday last to attend the convention of the co-operative party of the Alberta Boys' Parliament. Boys as far south as Lethbridge were present. Russell Berscht, leader of the party, presided.

Calgary's chief of police has made a request to parents in that city to warn their children against damaging property on Hallowe'en night and asking that the various city organizations arrange some form of entertainment for the juveniles. "The parents," he says, "of boys and girls committing damage are equally responsible for the actions of their offspring, and proceedings will be taken against the parents if necessary."

This warning, of course, applies to any town, and the suggestion of organizing some form of entertainment for this particular night is a good one, and might with advantage be more generally acted upon.

Fire wardens just now are obviously uneasy, the long grass, and the prolific growth of weeds this year, coupled with the fine dry weather experienced recently, have all combined to make conditions somewhat dangerous. Warnings have been sent throughout the country and it is much to be hoped that these will have the desired effect.

Within the past few days a disastrous fire swept over a large area in the southern part of the province, destroying buildings and crops, the winter's feed, and numbers of animals.

There is not a country road but that has not its hazard, and this fact should be ever present in the minds of those who are out motor-ing or driving.

The same conditions exist in the town, where dry grass and other inflammable material border our streets and lanes, and it is here when especial care should be taken.

A cigarette stub, a lighted match carelessly thrown may result in a conflagration involving a considerable area.

It is obviously impossible for the officials to safeguard the town completely in this respect,—the work would be too costly for one thing—and consequently the individual resident may consider himself well advised to perform this duty, so far as his own immediate surroundings are concerned.

Then, too with the approach of winter, the careful resident will examine his pipes and chimney, make a thorough investigation of the attic, and take other precautions which may be deemed advisable.

The lantern slides shown at the United church on Tuesday night will be repeated on Sunday night. The address, as announced elsewhere in this issue, will consequently not be given.

At a meeting of Mons Chapter, I.O.D.E., held at the home of Mrs. Lowrie, on Monday, October 24th, a motion was passed to donate four cash prizes of $10 each for high school students, to be awarded at the discretion of Mr. Crum, principal. The Chapter has already installed an electric bell system in the local hospital, and it was decided to furnish cots for the infants' ward in the near future. A presentation was made to Miss M. Williams, who is leaving shortly. At the close of the meeting, the Chapter entertained their friends at bridge.

PROVINCIAL W.C.T.U. MEETS IN EDMONTON

Early this week delegates from all parts of Alberta will leave for Edmonton to attend the fifteenth annual convention of the Alberta Provincial Women's Christian Temperance Union, which takes place in the First Baptist Church, commencing October 25, with an executive meeting, and continuing until October 28.

The convention will be presided over by the president, Mrs. L. C. McKinney, of Claresholm. An address of welcome will be given Wednesday evening by Mayor Bury, which will be responded to by Mrs. J. N. Vanderburgh of Calgary.

The address of the evening will be given by Rev. Hugh Dobson, D.D., who will speak on "The Challenge of the Task Just Ahead."

Baalbek.

(Compiled by D. C. Eby)

Ever since our visit to Baalbek on our way to Aleppo from Beirut I have desired to give our friends some description of the ruins there. Most of the following information has been gleaned from a book on Baalbek by Michel M. Alouf.

Baalbek is famous the world over as the best preserved and most wonderful ruins in all this Eastern country of many ruins. It lies at the foot of the Anti-Lebanon mountains at an altitude of 3850 feet above sea-level. Owing to its advantageous position between Tyre and Tadmor (Palmyra) it must have been one of the busiest centres of commerce in Solomon's great kingdom.

From the name of the town it is evident that it was a "Town of Baal." It is considered one of the most ancient cities of the world. According to Arab legends Adam and the patriarchs inhabited the country around Baalbek. Adam they say lived at Damascus and died at Zebadani near Baalbek. Also Cain, Abel, Seth, Noah and his son Shem lived here. The same legend says Cain built Baalbek in the year 133 of creation and that it was peopled with giants, as only giants could have transported such building material as is used. Others assert that the demon Eshmudi was the builder as no human being could attain such perfection and skill as to build such a fine building with such enormously large blocks of stone. Others believe that Solomon had a huge castle built there. The Christians of the Orient believe that Solomon built "The house of the forest of Lebanon" at Baalbek.

After the death of Solomon the Phoenicians conquered the country and employed all their skill and art in beautifying the temple of Baal and thousands of pilgrims crowded the city for the sacrifices of Baal. It appears incontestable that Baalbek was the birthplace of the worship of the sun, or, as the Phoenicians have it, of Baal. The town was undoubtedly of Phoenician origin and the fame of the town induced the Romans to build the marvelous temples we admire today, using the materials employed by the Phoenicians to build the primitive temples of which no trace remains.

Earthquakes at various times as well as the many wars that took place there have caused the buildings to fall into ruins. The inhabitants, because of the sensual forms of worship, bitterly opposed Christianity and St. Eudoxia was beheaded in the beginning of the second century; the young actor Gelasimus also was stoned to death because while acting in the theater he proclaimed his conversion to Christianity.

It seems impossible to give a description of the magnificent and marvelous ruins of Baalbek, which is one of the most wonderful architectural creations of the genius of man. These temples, decorated by every kind of sculpture, have attracted the admiration of all ages as much by their artistic perfection as by the fact that prodigious strength must have been employed in their construction. It is proclaimed as a masterpiece of Greek architecture. In order that the temples be given greater height the Romans built them on a lower story of vaults and subterraneous passages.

The great Temple of Jupiter was formerly enclosed by 54 Corinthian columns, but now only six of these remain standing. With their bases and capitals they measure 66 feet in height and 7 feet 4 inches in diameter. The temple is surrounded on three sides by a gigantic wall built of enormous blocks of stone. The south and north walls are formed of nine stones only, each measuring 33 feet by 14 feet by 10 feet. On the west there are six blocks and above these three blocks each measuring 64 feet long, 14 feet high and 12 feet broad and weighing about 720 tons each. These walls had not been completed as there is an immense stone in the quarry, about fifteen minutes walk away, which was intended for this wall. It is 69 feet long, 16 feet wide and 14 feet thick, and weighs about 915 tons, and, though not completely detached from the rock, it is hewn and squared ready to be placed on the wall beside the others.

The small temple, the Temple of Bacchus, is regarded as the finest and best preserved temple in Syria. It measures 225 feet long, and 110 feet wide, and is surrounded on the outside by 42 columns, each being composed of five enormous blocks of stone; these, with the base and capital, measure 60 feet in height and that even after all these centuries you cannot insert a sheet of paper between the blocks. Some assert that these enormous stones were hoisted in position by machines the secret of which has been lost. Others maintain that a road was built forming an incline from the quarry down which the stones were taken, but strange to say no trace of such a road is found. A solution of these problems is perhaps to be found in the fact that tyrants of those days held in little esteem the lives of their slaves and captives. The circumference near the base is 18 feet 10 inches. The distance between the columns is seven feet, and the porch is about ten feet wide. The ceiling covering this is made of enormous slabs covered with sculptures of incomparable beauty representing many mythological subjects. The sides of the door are composed of beautifully sculptured blocks representing fruits, flowers, ears of corn, poppies, vines and bunches of grapes. These are only a few of the details about this beautiful building and are very incomplete.

How this building was erected is the great question. These gigantic stones have been placed so accurately

The Conservative National Convention

The holding of a national convention by any great organization is always a matter of interest and of importance to people generally because of the effect it may have on the country as a whole. But when such a convention is called by a political party for the purpose of formulating policies and selecting a leader, the gathering becomes one of first importance. It was natural, therefore, that the recent Conservative Convention in Winnipeg should command not only the interest of members and adherents of that particular party, but of the Canadian people as a whole.

Interest in the convention was all the greater because it was unique in the history of the party, being the first national gathering of Conservatives to be convened since Confederation. Liberals and other political groups have convened in national convention but the Conservatives had not done so prior to this year of Canada's Diamond Jubilee. It added one more nationally important observance of this memorable year in Canada's history.

As is well known to our readers, this column does not attempt to deal with or discuss questions which are the subject of controversy between political parties, and in this particular article there is no intention of departing from that rule. But as a national event, the recent convention presented certain features and took certain actions which, instead of being controversial, are matters for general satisfaction.

In the first place, like all great national gatherings, the Conservative convention performed an unquestioned service to Canada in bringing together hundreds of the leading men and women of the nine provinces. The resultant exchange of views and opinions, the new knowledge gained of each other and each other's problems, the round table conferences in committee, can not fail to profoundly affect future policy throughout the Dominion.

To the West in particular the unqualified endorsement of the Hudson Bay Railway project and approval of steps not only to complete the railway but to develop a port and traffic in and out of that port is most gratifying. It definitely removes this great undertaking from the realm of partisan politics and places it where it belongs as one of the great national undertakings of the Dominion to the success of which all are committed.

It is likewise gratifying to the West that the mantle of leadership should have fallen on the shoulders of a Western man, yet a man who has an intimate knowledge of the East. Whether one agrees with the political views of R. B. Bennett or not, few, if any, will question his ability or his love for and desire to serve his native land. His long experience in public life, as a member of the old North-West Territories Assembly, the Alberta Legislature, and the House of Commons, his training in law, his qualifications as a speaker, and the responsibilities which have been his as Minister of Justice and Minister of Finance in former Governments at Ottawa, should fit him for his new task of party leadership. In the hands of Hon. Mackenzie King and Hon. R. B. Bennett, all that is best in British Parliamentary traditions and procedure should be worthily upheld.

Finally, the convention, and the settlement of the question of leadership, should have the effect of giving greater stability to political thought throughout the Dominion. It marks the end of a period of indecision and unrest in the ranks of one of the political groups which is a good thing for Canada as well as for the party itself. Unity in purpose and decisiveness in action is what a young and rapidly developing country like Canada urgently requires in order to make progress. It is vital to the interests of the Dominion that not one or two but all political groups know their own minds, definitely state their policies, and show decision in their actions. Unless those who direct and those who seek to direct the destinies of Canada are themselves strong and united in leadership and policy, it is futile to hope that they can make that contribution to the welfare and progress of Canada which is essential.

New Serum Successful

Claim Cure For Infantile Paralysis Has Been Perfected

Discovery of what is said to be the first effective commercial specific for treatment of infantile paralysis was announced at Indianapolis by Eli Lilly & Co., pharmaceutical chemists.

After ten years' research an anti-streptococcal serum has been developed from the horse as in the case of diphtheria and scarlet fever serums.

The serum is being produced there in co-operation with Dr. Edward C. Rosenow, chief of experimental bacteriology of the Mayo Foundation, and already 10,000 units have been sent to poliomyelitis epidemic centres from coast to coast and even into Cuba.

First reports show it especially effective in Ohio and California.

Clinical observations show that best results are obtained if the serum is used as soon as the case has been diagnosed, recovery without paralysis being reasonably certain in such cases. The serum has been found effective in treating paralysis already begun, and in reducing handicaps of bodies already paralyzed.

The same Lilly chemists who developed insulin for diabetes control worked on the new paralysis serum.

The White House gets its name from the fact that after the first executive mansion, which was of buff freestone, was burned by the British in 1814, the walls were covered with white paint to hide all traces of fire.

Old Age Pensions For B.C.

The Pittance That Will Banish the Worst Spectres Of Poverty

The Vancouver Province is strongly in favor of old age pensions, which are now established in British Columbia. "It means, little as it is," it says, "all the mighty difference which lies between the tragedy of age in want and the assurance of a pittance which will at least banish the worst spectres of poverty. It is not too much, but it is a very great and beneficent thing, this beginning of old age pensions in Canada, in the lives of some of those neighbors and fellow-citizens of ours—those who have fulfilled their three score years and ten, and have found the battle a little hard in their latter days."

Use This Liquid To Peel Off Corns

Honey Exports

With a honey production of 21,000,000 pounds in 1926, a record of 300 per cent. increase for the past five years was recorded. Exports of honey from Canada in the twelve months ended June, 1927, had a value of $191,843, as compared with $159,783 in the previous year, and with $93,945 in the year before that. Germany is the principal customer, other purchasers being the United Kingdom, the United States and the Netherlands.

A SIMPLE TREATMENT FOR CHILDREN'S COLDS

Cold in the head is very common at this time of year, especially in the very young. Neglect of a cold is prone to lead to serious consequences. To relieve all congestion of the system is the first step in treating a cold, whether in infants, or adults. For the very young, Baby's Own Tablets are the ideal means of doing this. Containing no narcotics or other harmful drugs they soothe the child's fretfulness, relieve its suffering and ensure convalescence.

Baby's Own Tablets are without an equal for relieving indigestion, constipation and colic. They check diarrhoea; break up colds and simple fevers; promote health-giving sleep and make the dreaded teething period easy. The Tablets are the one medicine that a mother can give her little ones with perfect safety as they are guaranteed to be free from injurious drugs. They are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

How Should I Wean My Baby

This is a serious problem to many mothers. Weaning should always be done gradually, beginning about the seventh month, giving one or two bottle feedings during the day, increasing the number of bottle feedings gradually until weaning is accomplished. Borden's Eagle Brand Milk is so like mother's milk in taste and ease of digestion that it can be given alternately with breast milk without causing abrupt weaning.

In this paper from time to time you will find an advertisement of Borden's Eagle Brand Milk, a food that has raised more healthy babies than all the prepared infant foods combined. Cut out the advertisement and mail it to The Borden Company Limited, Montreal, and they will send you, free of charge, instructions for feeding your baby, and a Baby Welfare and Baby Record Book. Or, just write the Company, mentioning this paper, and they will be sent.

Saskatchewan Motor Licenses According to the Saskatchewan Provincial Treasurer's report there has been a tremendous jump in the number of motor cars used in the province, from 10,225, in 1915, to 102,000 this year up to the end of August. Revenues from motor licenses and fees this year ran to $1,510,262; corporation tax to $516,199,000 and railway tax $349,600.

Want Representation

Saskatchewan United Farmers Would Have Agricultural Interests Represented On Rail Board

Representation of organized agricultural interests on the Canada Board of Railway Commissioners is being asked by the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, in a resolution passed by the executive board meeting at Saskatoon. A copy of this resolution has been sent to all Western Federal members of parliament. A vacancy will occur on the board shortly through the expiration of the term of office of Commissioner A. C. Boyce.

The resolution is as follows: "As a matter of justice and equity, we the executive board of the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, strongly urge a reconstruction of the personnel of the railway commission so as to give the Western provinces a more equal representation with Eastern Canada, and that one such appointee be representative of Western organized agricultural interests."

"Further that a copy of this resolution be sent to all western federal members with a view to soliciting their co-operation and support."

A similar resolution has also been passed asking representation of organized agricultural interests on the board of directors of the Canadian National Railways.

Germany Plans Air Train

Powerful Planes For Locomotives and Gliders For Pullmans

Aeronautical engineers in Germany are working on plans of an "air train" as a possible means of travel in the future. The locomotive will be a powerful aeroplane and the "pullmans" a row of gliders coupled to the locomotive and to each other, as the cars of a train, only with considerably greater spacing between the units.

Passengers in each glider will be destined for some particular town, and as the airframe of each town is approached the glider for that destination will be released from the end of the string and settle gracefully down with its special pilot and its passengers.

CAREFUL DRYING OF WHEAT WILL SAVE MILLIONS

Winnipeg.—Important recommendations which probably will mean a saving of millions of dollars in the marketing of this year's grain crop of Western Canada are contained in a tentative report submitted to the Board of Grain Commissioners by the grain research committee of the Canadian Research Council.

Owing to adverse weather conditions, an immense amount of tough and damp grain is being threshed this year. This will necessitate careful drying. Last year a similar condition prevailed, and heavy discounts had to be made on European sales as a result of the general complaints regarding the quality of dried grain.

It is said that if the grain this year is properly dried, as recommended in the report, the great losses sustained during the last season can be eliminated and they were estimated to total into the millions of dollars. Thus the producers will get the direct benefit.

With a view to preventing the recurrence of heavy losses this year, the grain research committee at the request of the Canadian Wheat Pools undertook to investigate the effect of drying on the quality of wheat last January.

Plan Aviation Program For Coming Year

New Flights and Exploration Trips Included In U.S. Project

New York.—Aviation has advanced a new year's boom program calculated to surpass the unprecedented achievement of the season now drawing to a close.

That program includes:

Building of new factories by Charles A. Levine and Anthony H. O. Fokker. Manufacture by Levine of planes ranging from a "flyer," priced at $1,500, to a multimotored type for ocean travel.

An air expedition into the Arctic under command of General Nobile, member of the crew of the Norge.

A trans-Atlantic flight by Clarence D. Chamberlin in a huge Bellanca plane capable of transporting 20 persons.

Harry F. Guggenheim, Philadelphia, announced that he had created a fund to promote research work in the interest of aviation. The fund, it was announced, would be used to develop instruments which would reduce the hazards of flying.

A gold medal, to be awarded annually to the person who does the most to minimize the dangers of aviation, was announced by the Engineers' Club of Philadelphia.

Believe Clue Found To Missing Planes

Rubber Ball Picked Up In Ocean Bears Number 218

St. Johns, Nfld.—A report from Burgeo that a rubber ball had been picked up there, which was believed to have been dropped from an aeroplane, led to the hope that it might furnish some clue as to the yet unsolved fates of the trans-Atlantic planes, Whitebird and St. Raphael.

The ball, about two feet in diameter and made of an expensive material, was enclosed securely in a strong canvas bag. The numbers 226 and 17RF, a little worn, could be seen on the rubber, but a word on the outside casing was indecipherable, although it looked as if it might have been London.

The number 218 on the canvas bag was very distinct.

A Second Cave-In
Sudbury, Ont.—A second cave-in at the Mond Nickel Company mine at Worthington has put the Canadian Pacific Railway division at this point temporarily out of commission. The east bank of the cavity sloughed for a distance of 100 feet, 20 feet in depth but did not drag the roadbed into the cavity. However the tracks are not considered safe for traffic as the ground has been undermined.

Police Forces To Co-operate

Dominion Government Will Not Consider Withdrawal Of R.C.M.P.

Ottawa.—While the Dominion Government cannot for one moment consider the withdrawal of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police as agents of the Federal authority from the province of Saskatchewan as suggested in Press despatches from Regina, some arrangement may be arrived at between provincial and federal authorities whereby the R.C.M.P. and the Saskatchewan Provincial Police will co-operate in the enforcement of provincial statutes.

This was the statement of Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, regarding the police situation in the prairie province. Hon. Mr. Lapointe stated that the press despatch conveyed no news to him, since negotiations were under way last year between Saskatchewan authorities and himself as a result of the feeling at Regina that there was overlapping in provincial police work.

"There has been no trouble. It is purely a matter of economy," the minister said. "Saskatchewan authorities want to avoid overlapping, and think that provincial matters affecting the enforcement of the law could be better handled by one force or by closer co-operation between the existing authorities."

"The government has no idea of withdrawing any part of the R.C.M.P. anywhere, but we may be able to come to some arrangement with the gentlemen from the West at our meeting in the near future to ease the situation there."

Ontario Prefers Western Coal

Would Pay Higher Price if Necessary Opinion Of Premier Ferguson

Winnipeg.—There will be no amending of the constitution and no tampering with the British North America Act arising out of the conference of provincial premiers, slated to open in Ottawa on Nov. 3, according to Hon. Howard Ferguson, premier of Ontario, who on his arrival in Winnipeg from a tour of the West, characterized the placing of such question on the conference agenda as "Absurd."

"When we get through with it, I don't think it will be raised again for some time," he said, adding that the premiers he had spoken to during his trip were of the same opinion as himself.

Referring to the question of Western coal for Ontario consumption, Mr. Ferguson said he believed the people of his province were willing, if necessary, to pay a bit more to use the native product. While glad to have U.S. capital for development, while he welcomed American co-operation and American settlers, he was averse to paying them money for something Canada produced, especially as once Canadian money crossed the border it stayed there.

Mr. Ferguson thought that with time, and as the result of careful discussion and study of all angles of the Western coal question, accompanied by a reasonable attitude, negotiations might lead somewhere.

Noted Schooner Sold

Ship On Which London Wrote "The Sea Wolf" Brought $1,490

San Pedro, Cal.—A two-masted schooner, aboard which Jack London wrote his novel "The Sea Wolf," was sold under a United States' marshal's hammer for $1,490 as the rum runner Hakadeta. The schooner, which was known as the Saucy Lass when owned by the novelist, went to Mrs. Charman Conley Jones, of Los Angeles.

The rum runner was seized in April on the coast of Lower California. She was built in Victoria, B.C., in 1892. Her latest registry was Panama, but this was cancelled by Panama after seizure.

Hospital For Paralysis

Edmonton.—A temporary hospital for the care and treatment of infantile paralysis patients during the period of convalescence is to be established by the Provincial Government, according to announcement made here. Arrangements for getting the new hospital under way will be made as soon as a survey of the general situation with respect particularly to the likely number of cases, has been completed. Patients will be taken from all parts of the province.

Twice previously had the channel been swum by women, both Americans.

Deny Charges Against Moscow Millionaires

Were Not Associated With Mission Says Former British Secretary

London.—The Daily Express quotes Edward Carnock, former secretary of the British Mission in Moscow, as denying that Kyril Proze, and Vladimir Proze, two former Moscow millionaires alleged to have supplied him with Red army and navy mobilization plans, ever associated with the mission.

"It is another of the long series of scandals which followed the withdrawal of the British mission," Secretary Carnock, who is now in London, declared. "We are naturally concerned by the arrests because they mean almost certain death of scores of innocents."

According to the Daily Express, the charges also involve Sir Robert Hodgson, one time head of the mission and the former British consul at Leningrad.

Women and the Senate

Question Of Eligibility Is To Be Submitted To Supreme Court

Ottawa.—The Government has decided to submit to the Supreme Court the question of whether women are eligible to sit in the Senate.

For some time past, women's organizations have been urging that any necessary legislation should be passed to enable women to sit in the Senate the same as they can now sit in the House of Commons. But there always has been some doubt whether the British North America Act gives the necessary authority. The act authorizes the Government to appoint "qualified persons," but is a woman a person within the meaning of the act? Or is the term person limited to a man?

The Government also has decided to apply to the Privy Council for leave to appeal on the question of Alberta's natural resources. Transfer of Alberta's resources was before the Supreme Court on a reference heard some time ago, and the court gave judgment. That judgment the Dominion Government now seeks to have taken to the Privy Council for a final ruling on the subject.

Alberta Coal Strike

Minister Of Labor Offers His Services To Help End Dispute

Ottawa.—The assistance of the Department of Labor was offered to the parties of the Drumheller coal strike by Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor.

"As the law now stands," said the minister in an interview, "Alberta has not passed legislation to enable the federal department to administer the Industrial Disputes Act in that province. But Alberta has passed an Industrial Disputes Act of its own, and I feel sure they will look after this particular trouble."

"However, if the parties to the dispute or the provincial government of Alberta desire any assistance from this department I shall be happy to do everything in my power to bring about a settlement."

Mr. Heenan pointed out that six of the nine provinces had passed the enabling legislation which permitted the federal Industrial Disputes Act to function. Ontario, Quebec and Alberta are the three which have not adopted the necessary legislation.

FINAL PAYMENT ON POOL WHEAT IS ANNOUNCED

Winnipeg.—A final payment of over nineteen million dollars on the 1925 crop of Pool wheat, was announced by A. J. McPhail, president of the Canadian Wheat Pool.

"Of the total amount the Saskatchewan Pool receives $12,929,207, the Alberta Pool, $4,198,587, and the Manitoba Pool, $2,085,575," stated Mr. McPhail.

"The total payment made by the Central Selling Agency to the three Provincial Pools represents the net balance after deducting all marketing costs incurred by the Central Selling Agency, such as storage, interest charges and administrative expenses from the proceeds of the 1925 crop."

"As in previous years the spreads between grades have been adjusted in the final payments which reflect the actual price secured for the various grades."

"The final payments make the total price on the principal grades as follows: Number one Northern, $1.42; Number one Durum, $1.45; Number two Northern, $1.37½; Number three, $1.31; Number four, $1.21½; Number five, $1.09; Number six, $0.75½."

Mr. McPhail stated that the carrying charges and operating expenses of the Provincial Pools are deducted from the final payment. In addition the provincial pools made deductions for the commercial and elevator reserves, which are credited to the individual members. Members receive interest on the money lent by them to their Pool as an elevator reserve, which is used to provide elevator facilities.

The administrative expenses of the Central Selling Agency for the crop year of 1926-27, according to Mr. McPhail, were covered by a deduction of less than a fifth of a cent per bushel. The distribution of over nineteen million dollars brings the grand total paid by the Pools since the Alberta Pool started in 1923 to over six hundred and seventy million dollars.

Beam System Of Radio

Wm. Marconi Says It Is the Basis Of Future Improvements

Washington.—The beam system of radio transmission is the basis for all future wireless improvements, in the opinion of William Marconi, here as one of Italy's representatives at the International radio conference.

Upon its perfection, he believes, will depend to a large extent the development of such widely different wireless applications as photographic transmission and radio telephony.

Marconi explained how he had succeeded in restricting radio emanation to a beam diverging from the sending station at an angle of not more than to or three degrees. The effect of this, he continued, was that all energy of the transmitting station which under ordinary circumstances would have been spread in all directions was concentrated along this beam.

Owing to this concentration the strength of the incoming signal at the receiving station had been increased as much as 200 times in some cases. In trans-Atlantic communication between this country and England, he said, the beam system had strengthened messages 100 times. To obtain the same strength of incoming signals without directional transmission the sending power would have had to be increased 10,000 times, which, Marconi added, would not have been feasible.

Since the success of radio telephony and photographic transmission are dependent upon the strength of the incoming signal, Marconi declared he considered his experiments with beam transmission as a basic one for the improvement of the art.

Asked whether wireless would ever completely replace the cable, Marconi said the latter had only the advantage of secrecy, but that with the beam system secrecy is practically absolute in radio since words are transmitted at as high a rate as 500 per minute, requiring complicated and expensive receiving sets. In addition such messages are subject to reception only by stations in the direct part of the beam.
